10 Luxembourg Sustainable Business Principles

As of 2021 and for the next decade, the Luxembourg Chamber of Commerce and its members, with the support of its partners, is assisting each company in implementing the following 10 interconnected guiding principles

Management programme: Luxembourg Sustainability Management Series

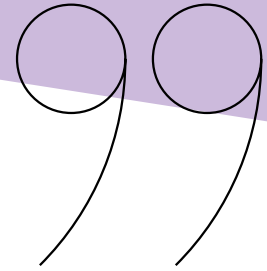

The Luxembourg Chamber of Commerce launched 10 guiding principles to put sustainability at the heart of corporate strategy in Luxembourg.

Based on these 10 principles, these training sessions aim to introduce participants to the major issues of sustainable development and their concrete application in a company's strategy.

The 11 modules are based on the intervention of specialised professionals, who will share their expertise with the attendees. Indeed, each session is introduced by a lead speaker who will present the theme and its challenges. He will then be joined by a second spokesperson animating a case study. The plurality of the speakers will allow the participants to acquire theoretical knowledge but also to benefit from field experiences.

Ready for your new challenge?

Are you an Entrepreneurs, CEOs, or a top-level management position? This training will give you the capacity to identify the development opportunities emerging from the integration of ESG criteria into a global strategy and the resulting growth opportunities.

"Sustainability is no longer optional but urgent. I will provide you with awareness about current sustainability challenges and give you the tools to become an actor of change within your organisation."

Julie JADIN

PhD. researcher in economics at the European Center for Advanced Research in Economics and Statistics (ECARES)
